Best practices shaping the shopper journey

DISCOVERY

Give shoppers one obvious AI entry point

- HP now surfaces a dedicated AI / Copilot+ PC destination across all 8 in-scope markets, creating a predictable first stop into the category.
- Dell and Lenovo go further by using the landing page to explain what an AI PC is and why it matters before shoppers browse SKUs.

CONSIDERATION

Turn AI from a spec into shopper value

- HP frequently leads with security, local AI, battery life and “meaningful moments”, moving the conversation beyond chipsets.
- ASUS and Acer sharpen the value story with concrete cues such as sub-1kg portability, multi-day battery life, OLED and haptic innovation.

DECISION

Make the premium choice easier to justify

- HP keeps the premium cue visible through Copilot+ PC, Next Gen AI PC and HP AI Companion across category and product pages.
- Samsung and Lenovo add stronger branded AI layers : Galaxy AI and Aura Edition, to make the top-end story more distinctive.

What HP should watch

1

Introduce an AI PC buying guide

Guide shoppers by use case, battery life and mobility.

2

Quantify the value

Lead with hours saved, battery weight and practical outcomes.

3

Own one HP AI layer

Tie Copilot+ PC and AI Companion into one clear story.

Bottom line

HP has the footprint; the next unlock is simplification. The strongest journeys explain the category, merchandise shopper outcomes, and give buyers a premium story they can retell.
